

Glenglassaugh

30 year old, 43%

An intriguing whisky. Blueberry cobbler, crushed grape, maple syrup, nougat, and spice (cinnamon, nutmeg). The oak is polished and unimposing. Liqueur-ish. A nice contrast to its younger sibling, and it's more polarizing because of its distinctiveness.

—Vol. 20, #1