

Glenfiddich Snow Phoenix

47.6%

Second of this pair of limited editions from Glenfiddich. This was named after a number of the distillery's warehouse roofs collapsed under the weight of snow in 2010. This was a bottling of a selection of casks — ex-sherry, ex-bourbon, refill — from one of those damaged warehouses. It is gentle and sweet — cooked pear, fruit crumble topped with rolled oats, golden syrup, and on the palate hints of raisin. A lemon finish adds a freshness to a dangerously drinkable dram.

—Vol. 20, #2