

Woodstone Creek
Whiskey Barrel
Bierschnaaps

47%

Woodstone's using a local brewer's beer as the basis for this one. Intriguing nose: grainy, sweet, but also a bit green/herbaceous. That's quite tasty! The malt comes through broad and sweet, the herbal character floats over the top and perks up the taste buds, almost like a digestif. The finish is tinged with honey and herbs, but dries up nicely. Smooth for the proof, too.

—Vol. 20, #4