

St. George's Distiller's Elect

46%

Without doubt this distillery is developing a core style, with peat the main variant over a grape, gooseberry, and lemon theme.

This particular bottling is only available at the distillery, and to some degree treads water after a series of great releases. The smoke is quite light but assertive, and there's a pleasant spiciness on the palate to shake things up a little, but it doesn't punch as effectively as Chapter 11 or the rum cask offering. £45
