

Dry Fly Straight Triticale

44%

Triticale is a wheat/rye hybrid, which I guess appealed to the wheat-mad Dry Fly distillers.

Aromas of grass, bubble gum, and oak. Taste is young, brashly sweet, but smooth enough to spread easily over the tongue. There's spice—light cinnamon, a zip of allspice heat—and grassy brightness, but they're dressing on the juicy sweet center. Not flawed, and well-made, but I wish it had more to say. Price is per 375ml.
