

Jeptha Creed Four Grain
Straight Bourbon

49%

The nose is dry and chalky, with notes of dried leaves, dried cherries, and raspberries. The palate is also dry, with some peppery spice. Water unlocks chocolate, and the dryness recedes a bit. The finish is the best part, offering orange Creamsicle and vanilla notes, though still dry.

Water brings out light tobacco leaf. Unusually dry and somewhat ashy, with some appealing notes that never quite emerge.
